QuashaLaw was established by an American Lawyer, Mr. William H. Quasha in 1950. He was one of those few foreigners who were allowed to practice law in the Philippines. In fact, according to the Supreme Court website, his Roll Number was Number 3 in Pre-War Lawyers' List. One of his legacies in the Philippines was helping establish St. Luke's Medical Center. As such, he was the Chairman of the Board of St. Luke's Medical Center for quite a long time. He passed away in 1996.
